THE VISIONARY

"Books are the treasured wealth of the world and the fit inheritance of generations and nations."

- Henry David Thoreau

I am delighted to share with you Maneesh Media's 25-year journey of promoting literary excellence and nurturing a culture that values knowledge and creativity.

Since our inception, we have dedicated ourselves to the pursuit of intellectual excellence in cultivation and dissemination of valuable ideas.

Strategically positioning ourselves as a powerful medium of thought leadership, we pride ourselves in being contributors to India's global significance as a G20 nation.

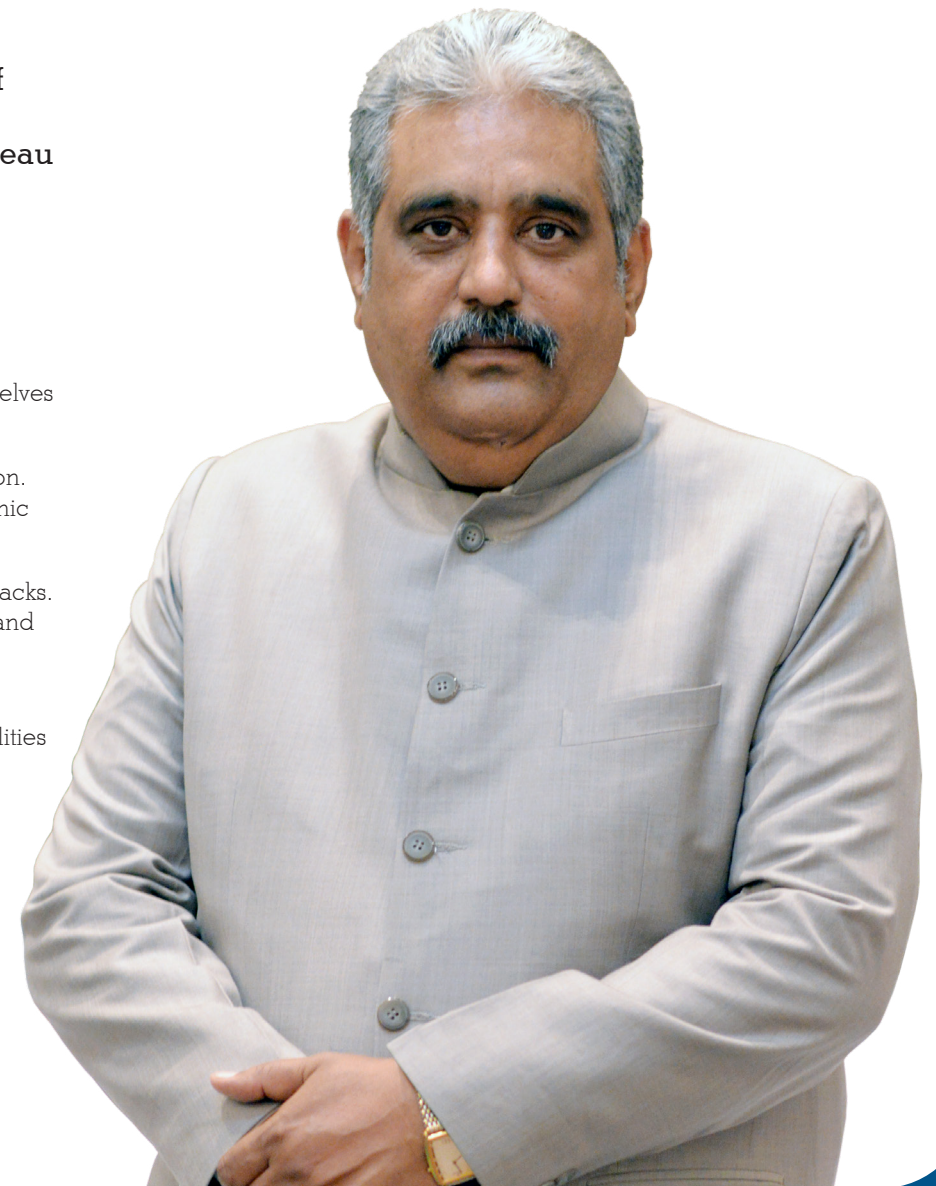

Furthermore, a 2021 survey reveals that India is home to one-fifth of the global youth population. As international publishers, our overarching objective is to motivate this substantial demographic to harness its capabilities and become future leaders and visionaries.

We meticulously chronicle inspirational life journeys, capturing highs, lows, triumphs and setbacks. These real life narratives are a navigational compass for generations, communities, societies, and diasporas across the world.

As storytellers, we have grown from strength to strength. This only steels our resolve to be a lighthouse of shared ideas and leadership in growth for millions across the world. Our capabilities have evolved over the years, yet the commitment to our ideals will always remain the same.

Message from the Prime Minister of Canada

It is with great pleasure that I send my warmest greetings for the launch of 50 Under 50: Young & Aspiring Indo-Canadians.

In a day and age where voices all around us are focused on division, I am proud to live in a country where our diversity is our biggest strength.

And, projects such as yours, that recognize the incredible achievements and contributions of Indo-Canadians, help us learn from them, and encourage people to champion them, truly deserve the utmost praise. I truly believe that celebrating one another's success makes us stronger as a community and a country. Indeed, today, this is more important than ever before.

I would like to commend the entire team of Mancesh Media for this tremendous milestone. Compiling a book as grand as this couldn't have been easy, but you have done a fantastic job.

And, to the brilliant individuals highlighted within, congratulations on this incredible recognition. Your achievements, compassion, knowledge, skills, and talent are inspirations for us all. I hope that this feature gives you the opportunity to take a well-deserved moment of self-fulfillment for all that you have done and achieved. Please accept my deepest gratitude for everything that you do for Canada.

MESSAGE

Since time immemorial, the world has come closer with the exchange of ideas, culture and people. The ancient wisdom of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbkam' beautifully captures the essence of India's global vision of 'the whole world being one family'.

Today, the world needs solidarity and strength of international partnerships and cooperation more than ever before. In this digital age, the geographical boundaries are giving way to worldwide communion. Books have served as a great medium of documenting and preserving these emerging trends across the globe.

I convey my best wishes for the success of the coffee-table book compilation.

(Narendra Modi)

New Delhi

STATE HOUSE
P.O. BOX 40530
NAIROBI, KENYA

STATEMENT OF WELCOME FOR HIS EXCELLENCY PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA MODI OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDIA

I am very pleased to extend a warm welcome to His Excellency Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India.

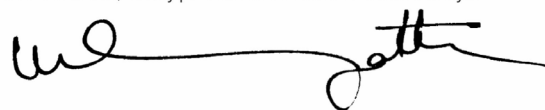

India and Kenya enjoy an old and close friendship, which was strengthened immeasurably by India's solidarity in our struggle for independence. The first Prime Minister of India, Jawaharlal Nehru, defended Kenyan nationalists in their time of need, going so far as to assist the Kapenguria Six. Nor should we forget that great warrior for Kenya's independence, Makhan Singh, who was born in Punjab, came to Kenya, and endured harassment and detention so that Kenya could be free. In the years since, the two countries have strengthened and deepened their friendship.

India's Diaspora in Kenya is old, it is settled, and it is an integral part of this nation. It plays a significant role in Kenya's economy, and continues to strengthen trade and cultural relations between our two countries.

Given our history, and our strategic position, Kenya is an important partner for India. The presence of Indian companies is a clear indication of that. As India rises to its rightful place in the world, it also offers Kenya's entrepreneurs and investors rewarding opportunities. I can only urge investors from both countries to make the most of the opportunities that now present themselves.

My hope is that India and Kenya will deepen their friendship, and rise together in freedom and prosperity, as the founding fathers of our nations would have wanted.

With these few words, it is my pleasure to welcome Mr Modi to Kenya.

UHURU KENYATTA, C.G.H.
PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF KENYA

Spotlighting the 125-year-old Mistry family legacy that started in Navsari, Gujarat, explored South Africa and finally reached the USA, was our beginning into the world of memoirs.

Historicising large-heartedness and strong will of an Indian in the USA, this book romances God's will. A book of struggles and success, weaknesses and strengths, from grassroots to skylines, it narrates the story of a businessman with a heart of a philanthropist.

Celebrating 65th wedding anniversary, an autobiography, also translated in Hindi, cherishes resilience, family values and success in the jewellery industry. With grace, it portrays his journey, business triumphs and the intricate balance between family dedication and professional aspirations.

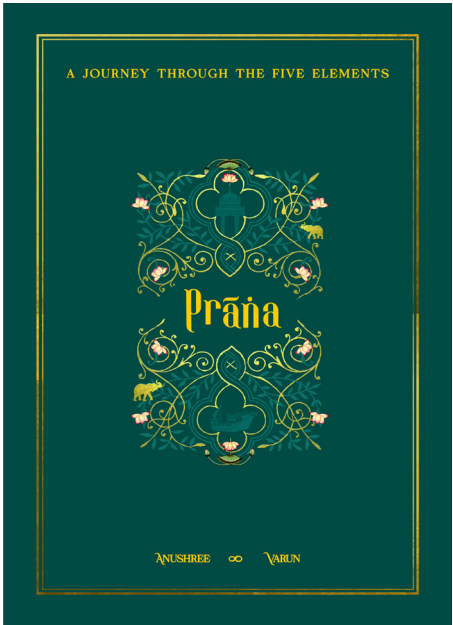

The story of a lady with mettle, the lady who traversed from the worst to the best and helped stood a strong family and was at the helm of a vast business empire spread across Kenya and the UK. A book celebrating her 100th birthday.

An autobiography, it chronicles his remarkable journey as the independent chief financial officer of the District of Columbia. Responsible for managing Washington, DC's finances, he transformed the city from a deficit-ridden jurisdiction to a financially prosperous municipality. With a wealth of experience and accolades, Gandhi shares his insights on financial leadership and his contributions to the city's growth.

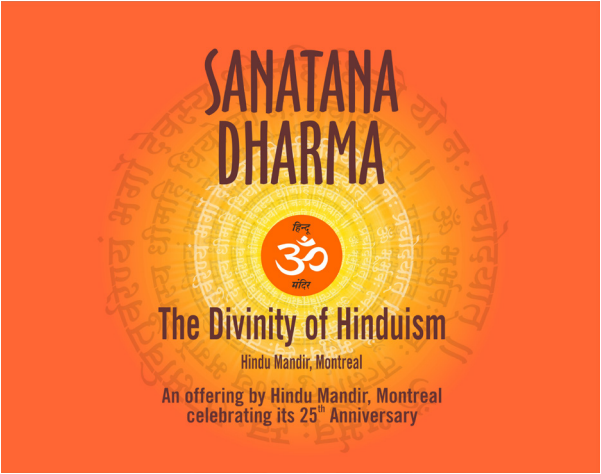

An honest and revealing memoir, it delves into colonial Kenya, the tumultuous moments of political uprising and new sunshine in the nation through the story of a young administrator to his rise as a senator.

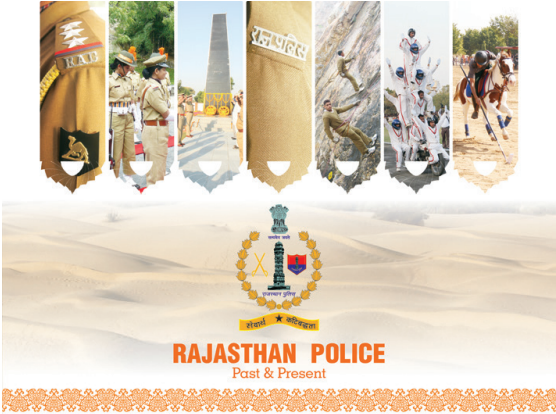

It captures the radiant union of two souls. This book cherishes love, the vibrant ceremonies and the jubilant festivities, honouring their beautiful journey into marriage. It's a testament to their love, happiness and the cherished memories woven during their special occasion.
